Public health experts are cautiously optimistic that we are beginning to ‘flatten the curve’ nationally. But in the DMV we are still seeing daily increases and hospitals are seeing increases in admissions. The Healthcare Council will continue to provide updates and information for as long as needed. Websites that link to specific national and regional case data can be found at the end of this email. Meanwhile, please contact us directly if you have information you would like us to include in our updates. Don’t forget to follow us on Twitter for updates throughout each day @HCNCA

If you missed it, please watch our “Thank You” video to our region's healthcare workers. You can download the video here or watch the video on YouTube by clicking here.

New National Guidelines, Information, and Policies Updates:

- CMS has temporarily suspended a number of Medicare rules so that hospitals, clinics, and other healthcare facilities can boost their front-line medical staffs. See here for details.
- HHS is renewing its call to ALL hospitals to report data on daily testing, bed capacity and utilization. They aim to clarify the existing reporting process and outline new options for states, vendors and other third parties to report data on hospitals' behalf. Read Secretary Azar’s letter here.
- The Managed Healthcare Executives website takes a look at what CFO's are working on during this crisis.
- They are also looking at how the crisis is affecting the home health industry.
- Some new evidence suggested the coronavirus can be spread one to three days before symptoms are present. Story from CNBC.
- DHG, one of the countries' largest public accounting firms, has some cash flow advice for medical and dental facilities. Link to story.

Regional Information and Information for Hospitals:
Developments from around the MD-DC-VA area.

- Cases in our region are on the rise and records are being set each day. The Washington Post has a new graphic with details for MD-DC-VA.
- Data as of Sunday night: 13,200 cases and more than 330 deaths in the region.
- DC Mayor Muriel Bowser told Fox News that the case peak in the District will likely be sometime in June. This has big implications for business, including healthcare facilities.
- Maryland’s COVID-19 webpage now allows you to look at coronavirus cases by zip code.
- Cases are beginning to rise in local prisons. After an outbreak in a DC prison, a Fairfax facility has reported 3 cases and a Baltimore facility reported its first case over the weekend.
